LOCATION

The Subject property is located in Burnley, which is a midsize town in the East Lancashire area, approximately 11 miles east of Blackburn and 25 miles north-east of Manchester. The town lies to the east of junction 10 of the M65 motorway, which connects to the M6 and M61, near Preston.

The property is situated upon Elm Street, which is located in the heart of Burnley and within walking distance of all local amenities. The immediate area is a good mix of commercial and residential premises.

Burnley also benefits from main public transport routes by way of a bus service and also benefits from a rail service providing access to both Manchester and Bury.

DESCRIPTION

The subject property is a substantial period building of traditional stone construction, set beneath a pitched and slated roof covering. The building benefits from high quality, modern facilities whilst still maintaining its historical features.

Internally it provides for multiple cellular office suites of varying sizes, across three floors. All floors benefit from a passenger lift.

The building benefits from air conditioning, lift access, bike racks, after hours security, showers, free car park and a café.
